Eclipse Scientific Welcomes You

Located in beautiful Waterloo, Ontario in the city's technical centre, home to Research in Motion, the Perimeter Institute for Theoretical Physics and the Institute of Quantum Computing, Eclipse Scientific currently owns and operates many phased array instruments with an associated transducer list ranging in frequency and configuration. You are encouraged to operate a multitude of applicationspecific scanning systems, such as the ESFlangeScanner, and will be using a large number of fabricated and documented flaw samples designed to challenge even the most experienced participant. You are also able to view our Photoelastic Visualization System designed to demonstrate the various interface reactions as the ultrasound propagates and mode converts according to Snell's Law. Computers equipped with supporting software tools are available during the course presentation and will include the acclaimed ESBeamTool modeling and technique development software package.

Our learning center boasts an environment where you will enjoy a multimedia learning experience as well as comprehensive workstations complete with all the necessary equipment to ensure a successful learning and highly effective inspection experience. Eclipse instructors have many years of industry experience and hold many certifications, ensuring instructor guidance and course content is based on practical experience and not just theoretical concepts.

Suggested Hotels

Our suggested hotels are located minutes from our training centre and offer a corporate rate to Eclipse clients. Shopping centres, restaurants and a movie theatre are all nearby.
